Look for these important Hotpoint differences

...in upright freezers

Tilt-down Door Racks . . . provide orderly storage for foods you use most often. Lets you select small or large packages, ice cream, sandwiches at a glance. Sturdy steel construction.

Glide-Out Storage Basket . . . pulls out front for convenient loading, quick selection. Open wire grill lets zero cold circulate freely even when basket is fully loaded.

Automatic Juice Rack . . . loads from the top and dispenses from the bottom. Remove one can and the next one slides in place automatically. Stores up to 25 cans in five "indexing" rows.

Adjustable Shelves . . . easily moved up, down or removed completely to make room for bulky packages. Gives you extra food storage flexibility and convenience. Easy to clean, too.

Double Action Freezing . . . coils in shelves quick-freeze food to capture garden fresh flavor. Freezing coils in walls guard and hold this flavor for months and months.

Fit-In Styling . . . simple, clean modern lines fit most any decor. Hotpoint door looks built-in, yet swings completely open for full access to food inside. Fits in most anywhere you want it.

...in chest freezers

Sliding Baskets . . . move across top of food compartment for easy access to food below. Off center handles give balanced lifting for convenient basket removal. Sturdily constructed.

Light Touch Safety Latch . . . fingertip pull on handle opens lid. Easily pushes open from inside, too. Counter balancing also makes it easy to lift and close. Stays open when raised.

Vertical Dividers . . . underneath the baskets divide main storage compartment into sections for orderly food keeping. Food may be systematically arranged by type and/or by freezing dates.

Interior Light . . . centrally located in lid. Automatically illuminates entire freezer width. No fumbling or groping in the dark. You can easily spot wanted foods at a glance.
